

I am going to tell of my story of a journey. I had arrived a full addict and alcoholic broken and dead inside female at the Abbotsford woman's home. I had become the exact opposite of my mom. Many times when she'd drink the mean came out in her. I got up the nerve to go to my first AA meeting. I was on the bus and I asked God for help and warmest feeling came over me long story short I had a spiritual experience I knew no one there scared big time , but people were great there and I felt less fear every time I went. Time to move back to Vancouver, I ended up at Vancouver detox and I was so grateful for the help from all there. I went to Sanctuary recovery place and I didn't know it at the time I realized God was working in my corner. I did relapse a year later. I was at Rice Block it's a good place.

I am celebrating my 6 years recorded addict alcoholic. And God has been in my life I had strayed because of such terrible emotional pain. Just know that I believe in you whoever is struggling God's Love wins over evil.

Testified by Alana Crouch

I couldn't do this journey without the Lord. Believe in yourself because I know you can do this journey. Good luck God bless all who reads this. Thank you Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.